Emerging Issues in Juvenile Justice
November 2-4, 2016 at the Harrisburg Hilton & Towers
Dr. Frances Jensen, Professor of Neurology and Chair of Neurology at the Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, will be the featured Morning Plenary Speaker. Author of the book, "The Teenage Brain", released by Harper Collins in January 2015, Dr. Jensen is an advocate for the awareness of adolescent brain development, its distinct strengths and vulnerabilities, as well as the impact on medical, social, and educational issues unique to teenagers and young adults. Her presentation, “Inside the Teenage Brain”, will focus on connecting the ever-growing body of research on adolescent brain development with juvenile justice policies and practices.

Dr. Jensen is also the Co-Director of the Penn Translational Neuroscience Center and a Trustee of the Franklin Institute. She formerly served as Professor of Neurology at Harvard Medical School, Director of Translational Neuroscience, and senior neurologist at Boston Children’s Hospital and the Brigham & Women’s Hospital. She is a graduate of Cornell Medical College and did her neurology residency training at the Harvard Longwood Neurology Residency Program.

Afternoon Plenary Session

Dr. James Dill will be the featured speaker for the Afternoon Plenary. His presentation, “Inside the Teenage Brain: The Hidden Dangers”, is unique, interactive, and will engage the audience. Dr. Dill will cover topics such as the teenage brain’s response to stress, the role of technology, and the impact on decision-making. He will also provide tools, resources, and advice to help navigate the world of teens and technology.

Mr. Dill is a Summa Cum Laude graduate of the Indiana University of PA, with a BA in Criminology. He is a 30 year veteran of the PA Office of Attorney General, with 27 of those years in the unit responsible for investigative technology and counter surveillance efforts. In addition to showing the hidden dangers of technology, he will also provide tools, resources, and advice to help navigate the world of teens and technology.
